The first part of the paper discusses the importance of understanding the cultural context of the research. It highlights the need for researchers to be sensitive to the values and beliefs of the communities they are studying. This is particularly important in the field of education, where cultural differences can significantly impact learning outcomes. The author argues that a one-size-fits-all approach to education is not only ineffective but also disrespectful to the diverse cultures of our world.

In the second part, the author explores the challenges of conducting research in non-Western contexts. One major challenge is the lack of standardized research methods that are applicable across different cultures. What works in one cultural setting may not work in another. The author provides examples of how researchers have adapted their methods to better fit the needs of their study populations. For instance, some researchers have used oral traditions and storytelling as a means of gathering data, which is more culturally appropriate than written surveys in many non-Western societies.

The third part of the paper focuses on the ethical considerations of cross-cultural research. It emphasizes the importance of obtaining informed consent from participants, which may have different meanings in different cultures. The author also discusses the potential for exploitation and the need for researchers to ensure that their work benefits the communities they are studying. Ethical guidelines are provided to help researchers navigate these complex issues.

Finally, the author concludes by calling for a more inclusive and collaborative approach to research. Researchers should work closely with community members to identify their needs and priorities. This collaborative approach not only leads to more relevant and useful research but also promotes mutual understanding and respect between different cultures.

Mexico '92

While the majority of students were preparing for their summer to begin, led by Mrs. Shileny 14 students and 6 chaperones took a trip south of the border. Mexico was the destination from June 14-20. The cost of the trip was about $1000.00. Which included some meals and most accomodations.

The students arrived in the famous Cancun resort area where they stayed for three days. They rested on the beaches before they traveled through the thick rainforests of the Yucatan to arrive at Tuluma. At Tuluma they toured the ancient Mayan ruins and took in some shopping. They stayed in Vallodolia the fourth night. From Vallodolia they traveled to Xel-ha where they snorkeled in the sparkling crystal blue waters of the Gulf of Mexico. The group then headed to Merida where they stayed their last three days. In Merida the group partaked in a walking tour which led them through the heart of a true mexican city.

All in all the group enjoyed their vacation and got a sense of mexican culture.

Homecoming

The thought of Homecoming was put into everyone's mind on September 24, with the announcement of the Homecoming Court. On Monday, October 5, Lisa Holden was crowned Queen and would reign over Homecoming festivities for the week to come. The week started off with Pajama Day followed by 70's day, Hawaiian Day, Clash/Necktie Day and ended with the traditional Red and Gray Day. The theme this year was "Don't Tread On Me", a song by Metallica.

On Friday, October 9, spirits were high as everyone prepared for the night of the big game. School was let out early as we watched the Senior Girls Powder Puff team take a victory over the Juniors. A new set of cheerleaders entertained the crowd, clown-wigs and all, the boys made quite an impression on everyone. The aud on the football field was followed by the parade, in which many people attended and participated despite the chilly weather. The games that night ended with mixed emotions. Excitement filled the air as the sophomores won 13 to 7 in the last seconds of game, but spirits dropped as we watched our varsity team lose to Muscatine in overtime, 21 to 20.

The Homecoming festivities were capped off on Saturday, October 10, with the Homecoming Dance. The theme song "Save Your Love" ended a night that everyone will always remember.

The 6th annual Lancer Leadership Camp was held on October 17 at Camp Abe Lincoln in Buffalo, Iowa. Becky Bray was the guest speaker from the Iowa State Extension Office. Throughout the day, the students were involved with different activities that helped them learn to become better leaders. In one activity, the camp go'ers were asked to play a trust game which involved money.

"Hopefully no one in Group 9 of the money game will ever run the country because we would all die," said senior Jarod Powell.

After a supper catered by Hy-Vee, the campers participated in group activities that strengthened their direction following techniques and their ability to interact with others.

At the end of the long day, there was a camp fire for the students and the teachers to roast marshmallows. Sophomore Kathy Looney said, "It was great. Roasting marshmallows at a campfire is something I haven't done in a long time." After the campers were done singing camp fire songs and eating marshmallows, they boarded the school buses and came back home to North Scott.

Blood Drive

On Friday November 30th, North Scott Student Congress sponsored its 15th annual blood drive. 64 units of blood were collected, one unit short of the goal set by Student Congress. 36 people donated for the very first time. Melissa Blanche became the school's 1500th donor, receiving a t-shirt for her donation. "I think that the food drive was very successful," says Tami Schwarz, Student Congress Secretary." The blood drive is sponsored by the Mississippi Valley Regional Blood Center. The second North Scott food drive of the school year was held in the spring.

This year's hunger drive was the most successful one yet! The high school donated 5620 pounds of food, and North Scott school's totally contributed 8530 pounds of food with help from the Junior High, Ed White and Alan Shephard. A dance was held on October 23 to help raise money and collect food for this needy cause.

Of the 8530 pounds collected, 2800 pounds were delivered to the River Bend Food Bank, with Student Congress receiving a $500 cash prize. The rest of the food, along with $400 was donated to the North Scott Food Pantry which provides food baskets and food for families in the North Scott area. The Hunger Drive is sponsored by Lujack Auto Plaza.

Mr. Buttjer's sophomore homeroom won a pizza party for donating 800 cans of food. Individual winners from each grade level included: Jeremy Busch (freshman), Sarah Lindle (sophomore), Beth Martzahn (junior) and Tammy Hoag (senior).

The annual Bachelor Capture week started off with the senior class voting for their top ten during homeroom. The Top Ten was announced on February 26. The B.C. court consisted of Jason Brandon, Bill Brockmann, Clint Christopher, Marty Lillis, Jon Nevenhoven, Jarod Powell, James Simmons, Aaron Uitenbroek, Rick Warren, and Josh Younkin. The crowning aud was held on March 12 and Jason Brandon was crowned as the 1993 Bachelor Capture King.

The '92 Bachelor Capture King, Cristian Carlton, was present to do the crowning. The senior class presented the Bachelor Capture Dance on Saturday, March 13. The dance was held in the Pit and lasted from 8-11 p.m. Big Ed took pictures with perhaps his best backdrop.

The theme of the dance was "End of the Road," by Boyz II Men. The colors of the dance were metallic blue and silver. The 1993 B.C. Dance was one that will not be soon forgotten.

State

THE BOYS BASKETBALL Sub-State tournament-trail was one that will be recorded in the history books. The Lancers' first-round game found a trip to Epworth to play Western Dubuque. The Sub-State 4 division already had two upsets and the winner of the North Scott-Western Dubuque game would automatically advance to the Sub-state final, being the highest seeded team in the bracket. The game was one with the lead switching hands many times. Going into the final minute, the Lancers were down 62 to 59. After a missed three-pointer by Brandon, Younkin was fouled, making both free-throws. A steal and a missed shot by Younkin, and a rebound and basket by Junior Nate Carr with only 6 seconds left, proved to be enough to beat the Bobcats, 63 to 62. The Lancers only needed one more game to qualify for State.

That game took the Lancers to Clinton, battling Dubuque Senior. From the tip-off to the final buzzer, the Lancers never trailed. Senior Josh Younkin led the Lancers with 30 points, but Junior Kyle Golinghorst put the finishing touch on the Rams with a one-handed slam dunk in the 4th quarter. Thanks to Coach White and Coach Townsend, for the first time in history, North Scott qualified for the State tournament, beating the Rams 74 to 60.

The Lancer boys debuted in Des Moines on March 17. The luck of the Irish seemed to overlook the Lancers in an upsetting 74-44 loss to Sioux City Heelan. The awe inspiring Veterans Auditorium held the Lancers away from the victory spot in which they deserved so badly.

THE SENIORS lead the way for the Lancers with Bill Brockmann scoring 12 points followed by Jason Brandon with 9 and Josh Younkin with 8. Although there was a tremendous amount of effort from every single player, unforced turnovers and the lack of rebounding were the determining factors in the game.

The support for the Lancers was tremendous with 5 school and 5 charter buses taking fans on the trip to Des Moines. The flow of red that filled Vets Auditorium was unforgettable, for the Lancers brought home the Sportsmanship award. After the game Coach White commented, "Our fans were super; I just wish we could have given them something more to yell about."

Even though the Lancers did not advance in the tournament, some feel that the trip to State will now become a Lancer tradition.

"As you soldier your way through the difficulties of life always look back at the friendships and memories high school created for yourself and others. Good luck Class of 1993. May you succeed in life and achieve all of your goals. The strongest positive thing about the class of 1993 is the unity we have towards each other. Keep in touch with each other and always be happy."

"I was standing at the front of the room pointing to a problem on the projection screen. A gust of wind came in and blew the transparency halfway down the overhead. From where I was standing, facing the screen, it gave the illusion the screen was falling. Being calm and always in control, I screamed and grabbed the screen. Out of their great love and respect for me they would occasionally commission the front and center student to push the transparency down when I was by the screen, so as to hopefully re-enact the situation. I fell for it once and then wised up! (YOU HAD TO BE THERE!)"

Teachers remarking on their most embarrassing moments here at NSHS

"Teachers are the key to the locked doors of education."

--J.P. '94

"Many experiences over the past 30 years, but being chosen "Grand Marshall" for the Homecoming parade of 1991 has to rate as a very memorable experience here at North Scott. Also receiving the Golden Apple award as an outstanding teacher in 1991 from my own peers was very special to me as well." --Deac Ryan

"The most embarrassing moment I've experienced here at North Scott was during the 25th anniversary Homecoming parade. I borrowed my brother's antique convertible to drive in the parade, but locked the keys in the trunk before the parade and never got the chance to drive it in the parade." --Ken Nevenhoven

Looking back at all of the memories created here at North Scott High School you just can't seem to forget about the people we see each and every day. The teachers. Without them we would be nothing. Teachers are the special breed of people that are mistakenly taken for granted. It is the teachers that make schools what they are. We salute each and every teacher at North Scott with a big thanks and appreciation. It is the fact alone that you can have a friendship with a teacher that makes you all so very special. Have a great school year next year and we can't wait to see what you are planning next!!

Academics

Art is the class to take if you want to express your talents onto canvas and other materials. Taught by Mr. Peeters, the students learn with hands-on work and by emphasis. They also work with the various media and techniques.

The courses offered in the creative arts include: Art Survey, which is an introduction to drawing, painting, using ceramics, and print making; Drawing I and II is a more in-depth approach that includes working with wet media, mixed media, and scratch board; Painting I and II includes using acrylic paints, making mono-chromatic paintings where you choose one color and use it with black and white, collages, and drawing still portraits; Ceramics I and II are classes in which you use the potters wheel, learn the techniques of it, the proper way to apply glaze, and some advanced decoration; Lettering/Commercial Art is a class of 7 weeks of hard calligraphy, rest commercial art projects, advertising layouts and design, greeting card design and computer applications.

Creative Arts is fast becoming one of the most popular courses taught at North Scott High School. It is the one area that creativity is most emphasized.

In order to meet the Core 3 requirements, many students have taken at least one of the many business courses offered here at North Scott. These classes are not only for students that are planning on majoring in business in college, but also for helping students to gain a better understanding of our economic system.

The Business Department is headed by Mr. Benjamin. The department also includes Mrs. Granger, Mr. Ryan, and Mrs. Herting.

Mr. Benjamin teaches some of the more traditional business classes. These classes include Accounting I and II, Record Keeping and Typing I and II. Some of the other classes taught in this department are Intro to Business, Intro to Word Processing, Word Processing II, Business Law, Applied Economics, Business Procedures and Business Management and Career Planning. A new class being offered this year is Notetaking. Taught by Mrs. Granger this class will better help prepare students for college life and the pressures on tests.

Mrs. Granger reflects on her Word Processing classes, "I enjoy teaching Word Processing--we work with a very sophisticated system that the students enjoy working with."

Many students feel that the business courses have given them an insight on what is really going on in the business world today. Many students that have taken these classes end up going on to major in some sort of business at college.

"Intro to Business gives us a real indepth look into the real world of business."

Driver's Education is a class that involves the use of driving skills and comprehension. It is not open to freshman their first semester, but if you turn 16 during the year then you are allowed to take it during second semester. Driver's Education consists of 30 hours of classtime and at least 6 hours of open road driving. The students drive at least once a cycle. The class revolves around watching many numerous films on various subjects from alcohol related deaths to Disney-like movies on impatient drivers. Drivers Education is taught by Mr. Nevenhoven. Mr. Perrine also lends his expertise as a driving teacher. Driver's Education lasts one semester and you have the option to take it in the summer if you want to pay the extra money. In case you curious drivers want to know the average ticket comes to about $36.00. Good luck to all of you drivers out on the Eldridge streets.

The Language Arts department at North Scott is the finest around. This department includes the following classes: 20th Century Literature, 19th Century Literature, Journalism I and II, Advanced Composition, Practical Writing, Creative Writing, Public Speaking I and II, Humanities, Popular Novel, American Novel, American Literature, English Literature, World Literature, Newspaper, Yearbook, and of course the required freshman and sophomore classes.

As a freshman and a sophomore you are required to take Writing Lab I and II, Short Literature I and II, Long Literature I and II and finally Communications I and II. These classes stress the fundamentals of grammar, vocabulary, speaking, and reading.

As a junior you have the opportunity to take any class of english that you wish. Colleges usually require four years of english classes for enrollment. To graduate from North Scott you have to fill the core for english which is three years.

The Language Arts department offers many different classes. They are not only fun but also educational.

Parlez vous Francais? Tu hablas espanol? This year, these are the two languages being offered, and are taught by Maureen Fletcher, John Hawley, Nancy Shileny, and Michelle Yost. In both the first year of French and Spanish the emphasis is based on the basic survival skills, like such topics as vocabulary, concepts of verb conjugations, greetings, and farewells. Then if you decide to carry your education of foreign language to the second year it would be the same format of the class, but to more depth on each area, and even some more on the culture of your specific language. And by the third year the class is conducted mainly in French or Spanish, you will receive a new book, either Vens-Voir or Pasos y Puentes. Not to mention more vocabulary with fine tuning of grammar, and more information about culture. So what could possibly be taught in the fourth year of your language? As Mrs. Yost says, "Everything you ever wanted to know but were afraid to ask!" You even get into reading books, The Little Prince if you are in French or Don Quixote if you are in Spanish.

"The biggest benefit of Knowing a second language is understanding other cultures. It's very important for those of us living in such a homogeneous district to learn about others," as quoted by Mr. Hawley.

As if this wasn't enough incentive to start a second language, there are special activities offered through a Foreign Language Club, which usually meets on a monthly basis. It covers things which are not able to put into the class curriculum, due to the time limit. There is also Christmas parties and carnation sales on Valentines Day.

Last year a trip to Mexico was offered. Unfortunately the summer of '93 does not hold this opportunity. Don't worry, Mr. Hawley has something up his sleeve. He says he's thinking of combining with the French students for a double trip to Spain and France in the summer of '94.

Home Economics is a wide variety of classes taught here at North Scott by Ms. Nancy Moore. The classes, which include Basic Foods, Cultural Cooking, Advanced Cooking, Child Development, Interior Design and Contemporary Living. These classes are all based on home life. Many people think that these classes are meant for women, but in fact a lot of the skills are meant for men and women. The classes have many labs and activities which enhance your social and mental skills. The skills help you prepare food for one or for many people, you also learn how to raise children. In Child Development you get a flour baby. It is a sack of flour with baby clothes on and you have to take care of it for two weeks. You deal with all of the aspects of raising children. Home Economics are classes that deal with future and how you will be involved with it.

Industrial Technology deals with five areas of education. They are Manufacturing, Construction, Communications, Energy and Power, and Transportation. Mr. Jack Dudley and Mr. Harvey Perrine are the instructors of Industrial Arts.

The area of Manufacturing offers five courses: Manufacturing Technology, where students design and manufacture a sellable item that is not too costly to produce; Wood Working I and II, where students design and build furniture products; Metal Working I and II, where students learn how to weld and make metal into interesting shapes and sizes.

The area of Construction offers two courses: Construction Technology and Carpentry. In Construction Technology students build a model of their dream home and learn all of the steps in producing this home. They also have a bridge building contest. The bridges are built out of balsa wood and tested to see how strong they are. In Carpentry, students learn how to build structures with full size materials.

The area of Communications offers three courses: Communications Technology, Drafting I, and Architectural Drafting. In Communications Technology students learn communication through ways of the air waves (radio), satellite (T.V.), printing press (newspaper), photography (pictures), and computers. Drafting I students learn how to make blueprint drawings and the fundamentals of basic drafting. Architectural Drafting students draw plans of homes.

In the area of Energy and Power Technology students build small solar panels for experiments, they design and build mouse trap cars, and design a model of a wind generator. There is also a course offered in Power Technology where students take apart and repair small gasoline engines, such as lawn mower engines.

The area of Transportation offers courses in Auto Maintenance and Auto Mechanics. Students learn to take care of their cars and analyze and take care of problems with their cars.

"Industrial Technology isn't a very known Academic field to students but has a lot to offer them," says Mr. Dudley.

"Drafting is an experience that everybody should have the chance to encounter. It brings out creativity and sparks interest in the art of business."

There are two basic forms of study hall, open or closed. There is a tremendous difference between the two. Open study hall, commonly called "Open," allows you to talk, drink pop, eat anything you want, scream-but not too loud, play air guitar, lip sync, dance, or copy homework. You are allowed to stay in the commons, and go out on the front concrete pad on warm sunny days to sunbathe, play ball, or throw rocks at passing cars, or for no reason at all you might want to do your homework.

Closed study hall, commonly called "Closed," is quite the opposite. Closed is a recreational place, if you are a book worm. Closed has many exciting opportunities too, you may just have to look a little harder. For example you can: count the dots on the ceiling, pretend there are pictures on the wall, or pretend you are in a snowstorm because the color of the pretty white walls. Other forms of excitement are: watching others shake in their sleep, watch those who just wake up wipe the drool off of their cheek, and well, you can also do your homework.

When open gets too loud, or closed gets too dull, you can always go to the library for a quiet place to think. In fact the library is also a great place to research anything you may be interested in. Computer systems make finding information at the tips of your fingers. There is the TOMS, which gives a complete listing of magazine articles on all the magazines the library subscribes to. There is the CD-ROM player, which is basically a whole set of encyclopedias on a CD. You can also get copies of charts and graphs or whatever your fancy is, all in the library.

Whatever type of study hall you have, you can find something in each one to amuse yourself. Some more than others though!

Math is a very hard and strenuous course in life but the mathematics teachers here at North Scott, (Dean Birkhofer, Ron Brown, Tim Brunkan, Marcia Hartman, Betty Kube, Bob Rhinehart and Bob Voelkel) try to take that stereo-type and mold it into fun. The courses offered are: General Math, Consumer Mathematics, Pre-Algebra, Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry, Analysis, Computer Programming I, Computer Programming II, and the big one, Introduction to Analytical Geometry and Calculus.

Math is not just adding and subtracting. Instead, the teachers try to make math seem stimulating. For example, lets take one of Mrs. Kube's classes. They have wonderful class discussions, intriguing worksheets, and thought-provoking tests and quizzes.

They all try to get the students motivated by having group activities, lectures, tapes, and asking students to make Christmas ornaments that have math words on them. For example "Centi-Clause."

The teacher tries to interest the students by having some seriousness and some fun. Every year they have the AHSME (Annual High School Math Exam.) You have to be recommended by the teacher in order to take this test. For fun they have class vs. class for the highest score.

"Math is like a bonfire-- once it gets going high, it always dies down, within minutes!"

The Music Program at North Scott High School has always been one of the finest in the state. Under the direction of Dan Anderson, Bill Kessinger, and Mary Kay Knapp, this program has received many prestigious awards and high honors.

Some of the awards that the band department have won are as follows: The symphonic band was chosen to perform at the Iowa Bandmasters Association Convention for the sixth time since 1976. This is the highest honor for any high school band. The jazz band was given many honors as well. Most recently they were chosen as the first student group and first big band to perform at the Bix Beiderbecke Memorial Jazz Festival. They also received first place in the Class 3A Western Illinois University Jazz Festival, received Grand Champion at the W.I.U. Jazz Festival, they qualified for Iowa Jazz Championships for the 14th time in 15 years, Jazz II received second place in the 2nd Band Class SEIBA Jazz Festival, and numerous individual soloist awards were received by members of both Jazz I and II.

Some of the awards that the choir department have won are as follows: All-State Large Group Contest, both the men and women's chorus received superior ratings. Also, the North Scott Singers and Red Choir received excellent ratings. The singular students have consistently gotten high ratings at state solo and ensemble contest. In October, 1992, a North Scott record number of seven students were selected for the All-State Choir. Vocal music students from North Scott have been selected to sing in the following Honors Choral Festivals: Iowa All-State Choir, Augustana College Honor Choir, University of Iowa Honors Choir, University of Iowa Honors Choir, Luther College "Dorian" Honors Choir, and Clarke College Honors Choir.

Available classes for band include Concert Band, Symphonic Band, Jazz I, Jazz II, and Marching Band. The Choral classes include North Scott Singers, Red Choir, and Chamber Singers.

"Band teaches more then just music. It teaches what music is, and the theory of music."

--Sarah Hotchkiss '93

Physical Education is a class that most students would rather not take. What they do not realize is that it is for their own good. This department is headed by Mrs. Noble with Mr. Johnson, Mr. Buttjer, Mr. Knight, Mr. VanDyke, Mrs. Menke and Mrs. Hartman.

During your freshman and sophomore year you are assigned to teachers and activities, but during your junior and senior year you are allowed to choose the activity you wish to participate in. You may also sign up for early-bird classes which are at seven in the morning. There are many different activities you can participate in to expand your mind and body. Floor hockey, tennis, volleyball, flag-football, soccer, side-line basketball, rec jogging, badmitton and softball are just a few of the many different games P.E. includes.

You also might find yourself in one of the muscle toning units. They include things such as weight lifting and running. Twice a year you are also required to take the physical fitness test. This test shows the school how well you have developed over the school year.

Whether you like it or not you are required to take P.E. all four years of your high school career. So open your eyes and your minds and you might just find you enjoy P.E.

Physical Education

The science department had another successful year. Headed by Mike Brown, the department saw some exciting events this year. As always, the trusty department consisted of Brad Merrick, Jim Logan, Jeff Newmeister, Glendena Heiman, Aaron Van Dyke, and the lone newcomer, Brent Buttjer. The classes offered this year were Health, General Science I and II, Introduction to Biology, Biology, ChemCom, Chemistry, Physics, and Advanced Placement Biology. The highlight in General Science II was the air cars. As Mr. Logan says, "That's always everyone's favorite event."

The Physics' students also had an exciting year with the class competitions. One of the competitions was the egg drop. It doesn't sound too hard, but after Mr. Merrick limits what you can use, such as only five pieces of paper, it gets to very difficult.

Mr. Newmeister also started a Science Club this year. The Science Club meets during homeroom and the goal is to get more in depth into science and maybe enter into some competitions.

The science department is also looking at having some major changes coming soon. As Mr. brown puts it, "Soon, science will be taught differently at North Scott, but at present we're not sure what the changes will be."

"Science begins in wonder and ends in knowledge."

Science

The Social Studies Department is something we all have to go through to graduate. We all have to take American History and American Government. Then, if you plan to go to college, you almost have to take additional social studies classes.

The Social Studies department includes teachers, Randy Denner, Randy Schrader, Don Scott, Pat Townsend, and part-time teacher Jan McDonald.

Mr. Randy Denner teaches American Issues, American History, and World History I and II. Mr. Denner includes many guest speakers to his classes. Mr. Ken Nevenhoven speaks with the American History classes about the Vietnam War, and Mr. John Hawley speaks with the American Issues classes about Hispanics. World History I and II are two new courses offered here at North Scott. Mr. Denner is planning to have Mr. Peeters talk to both of the World History classes about archaeology.

Mr. Pat Townsend teaches American Government, Psychology, and Sociology. In his classes he includes group activities, and cooperative learning projects. For a typical chapter Mr. Townsend incorporates many things which include work sheets for all the chapters, he provides notes both on the board and on the overhead. He also encourages class discussions. He gives quizzes and tests regularly.

Mr. Randy Schrader teaches American History, and the World History classes. In American History they do a unit on the depression. In his classes they use cooperative learning groups, do research in the library, and individual work.

Mr. Don Scott teaches American History and World Problems.

Ms. McDonald teaches World Geography and American History. In her classes Ms.. McDonald brought in some speakers to talk to her students.

"Looking back on my life, I can't help but thinking, well-at at least I wasn't run over by a raging Bull-Moose, dragged into the Amazon by a herd of Schrader-worshiping historians, and eaten by an armadillo with the Big Stick on His mind."

"Before I got into the At-Risk program I didn't care about doing my homework or passing classes. Now that I am in the program my grades have improved with the help of Mr. White."

--Shelly Bolte '94

The At-Risk program here at North Scott takes place in the learning center down in C-hall. The program was put together four years ago by Mr. Dennis Johnson. The last two years have been supervised by Mr. White. The At-Risk program helps students with their classes. It is an agreement between students and their counselors as well as Mr. White to be part of the At-Risk program. The program provides the students with a more relaxed study environment then the regular classroom.

The program takes place during a regular day. Students go down to the Learning Center when they have free periods or a study hall. While they are there they are able to work together on assignments and study together for tests in different classes. Everything they need to complete assignments or projects is right there for the students to use. There is a computer available in the center for the student to complete assignments or reports for class. If they have a question on their assignments and Mr. White is unable to answer it, he does his best job to try to find someone who can.

"The At-Risk program has helped me raised my grade with all of the help I've received from Mr. White and others," Junior Tori Peet stated.

"With the help of Mr. White and the At-Risk program I have realized how important a good education actually is," Junior Sonya Lane stated.

"The At-Risk program along with Mr. White has encouraged us to do our very best," responded Juniors Tori Peet, Sonya Lane and Shelly Bolte.

At-Risk

The goal of Special Education is to enable the students to live as independent as possible after high school. The curriculum is geared toward vocational and daily living skills. The "Challenged Persons" do a lot of things that give them hands on experience to how life outside high school will really be.

One thing the students do is purchase their own groceries every week. This is so that the value of money is learned. They also cook their own meals once a week. Social skills and manners are also taught. The kids also went into Davenport and learned the city bus routes. They even learned how to go into Illinois on the bus.

Each student in Mrs. Hartwig's Special Education class is employed in some way. The AEA in Bettendorf gives them weekly paid jobs. And each student has a job right here in the high school. Some work in the cafeteria or have custodial duties. A few even work in the Eldridge preschool.

Some of their daily classes are Speech and Art. Second semester the class focused on commercial housekeeping where the students learned how to clean business places.

Special Education

The vocational agriculture department is taught by Janet Steffensmeier. The classes that she teaches includes Ag I, Ag II, Advanced Horticulture/Landscaping, Horticulture, Wildlife and Natural Resources, Agricultural Mechanics, and Agricultural Business. Through these classes you can learn about things such as animals, plants, mechanics, and business.

Wildlife and Natural Resources is one of the most popular classes to take in the vocational agriculture area. In Natural Resources students study such things as environmental issues, pollution, and wildlife.

Agriculture Mechanics class is usually an independent study for seniors. In this each student has an individual project. The student makes the project from scratch. The student will also learn how to go from planning to production and estimating how much the end product will cost them.

Beginning Horticulture teaches how to identify plants, working in the greenhouse, flower arranging, and gardening.

Agriculture I teaches about the feeding and nutrition of animals. Agriculture II teaches about crops and soil.

The classes that are taught in this area really help prepare kids for the future. It's the students of today that are going to feed the world of the future. Many kids in these classes are planning to continue in the field of agriculture, after high school and college. That does not mean that all students are farmers, some students are using these skills off of a farm also.

Students really enjoy these classes. The things that you learn are things that you can use for the rest of your life.

"It's a good educational experience! I really enjoyed the welding part of it in Ag Science II."

Every year before school officially starts you will find the North Scott Marching Band dutifully practicing, in the early morning hours, their marching fundamentals. The marching band is the half-time entertainment for all the home football games and the Homecoming parade. For every game the band learns approximately three new songs and drills, with only two weeks of school time to prepare, it can become a most difficult task. The marching band is under the direction of teachers, Dan Anderson and Bill Kessinger; and Drum majors, Kim Rigby and Matt Whisler.

Unlike most marching bands, the North Scott Marching band does not compete. When asked, Mr. Anderson stated, "The reason we do not compete is because to become a better band and to improve our musical skills we cannot waste our time playing the same pieces of music over and over again. I like to challenge my band by giving them different pieces of music for every game or every other game. Sight reading and experiencing different styles of music are good for a students growth both mentally and musically."

"Trying to keep some 140 eyes upon you during a show is nearly impossible and quite frustrating. You really have to work well with the directors and the other drum major."

Jazz Band

Every May, auditions are held for both Jazz I and Jazz II. Students are to play all jazz scales and selected etudes. Auditions are open to any student who plays alto saxophone, tenor saxophone, bari saxophone, trumpet, trombone, bass, piano, drums, guitar, vibes, and who will be in high school the following year.

Both groups perform at many contests and concerts. Jazz I competed at the Western Illinois Jazz Festival held on Feb. 27, 1993, and received first place in their class 3A for the second year in a row. Jazz II finished third in the same class. On March 6, 1993, both Jazz I and Jazz II competed in the Southeast Iowa Bandmasters Association Jazz Festival in Iowa City. Jazz I won the Class 4A division for the fifth year, and Jazz II won the Second Band Class. Soloist awards for Jazz I were given to senior Drew Anderson who was named the outstanding soloist in Class 4A, Ryan Blodig on the drum set, Janeen Davis on alto sax, Kris Dinusson on trombone, and Melanie Holdorf on vibraphone. Solo awards for Jazz II were given to Scott Robinson on trumpet, and Jackie Schmitt on vibraphone. Jazz I has qualified for the State Jazz Championships fifteen times in the last sixteen years. The state championships are being held on Thursday, April 8, in Des Moines.

In November North Scott was visited by the Northern Illinois Jazz band and guest artist, Jim Pugh. Both jazz bands were able to participate in a jazz clinic with them.

This year Drew Anderson, Melanie Holdorf, and Kris Dinusson were selected to the All - State 3A - 4A Jazz Band. They will rehearse and perform at the Iowa Bandmasters Association Convention in Des Moines, on May 13.

Red Choir is a singing group made up of 65 freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Members of Red Choir do not have to audition to be in the choir, so there are many different levels of musical knowledge. Music Theory is taught and songs are sung from different levels of difficulty, ranging from easy to college level. Red Choir is directed by Ms. Mary Kay Knapp.

Chamber Singers

Chamber Singers is composed of 16 men and women who meet every other day during fifth period. During the Christmas season they are hired to sing for many business and organizational parties. Afterwards they begin preparing for Swing Show. Chamber Singers performs with Jazz I, Swing Choir and by themselves during Swing Show.

They also perform for the Pops Concert and other additional performances that change yearly.

Chamber Singers sing many different styles of music from pop to classical. They not only required to sing but they dance as well. Most songs were choreographed by Jane Phloen but one song was choreographed by seniors Kim Rigby and Jenn Noel.

"Chamber Singers is like the game of golf, if you mess up you just have to step up and hit it again."

North Scott Singers

North Scott Singers is a select choir of seniors, juniors and sophomores.

To be part of North Scott Singers you must audition at either the end of the year or at the beginning of the second semester. It is led by second year director Mary Kay Knapp. North Scott Singers music is selected from a wide variety of styles but is rather difficult. Ms. Knapp usually chooses college level music to challenge the choir and keep them on their toes.

Every year students are selected from North Scott Singers to participate in All-State and other music festivals. The choir received numerous superior awards as a whole and individually at state solo and ensemble contests yearly.

This year North Scott was the host school for the 1992 Metro Festival. Schools from surrounding areas met in the Pit to rehearse and perform the 1992 All-State music.

North Scott Singers perform at the fall, winter and spring concerts every year as well as other additional concerts that change yearly. You could have seen them this year on KWQC T.V. "Choirs of Christmas" special. They also sing for the baccalaureate and commencement ceremonies.

All-State

FIRST ROW: Drew Anderson, Melanie Holdorf SECOND ROW: Allyson Sosnowski, Trent Engler, Kris Dinusson, Ryan Blodig, Matt Oliver, and Jenn Noel

Even though all three groups perform at the same time, auditioning for All-State Band and Orchestra is totally different than it is for the choir.

Students auditioning on an instrument are required to memorize all their scales, because in an audition you never know which two you will have to play, as well as having a prepared solo and two etudes, which are short pieces of music that focus on a certain skill. These students are required to audition alone. Students are able to practice their solos and scales during the summer break but do not receive their etudes until the beginning of the school year.

Students who made All-State band this year are: Jenn Noel, french horn; Allyson Sosnowski, french horn; Drew Anderson, trumpet; Melanie Holdorf, percussion; Matt Oliver, trombone.

Three students made All-State orchestra: Trent Engler, french horn; Kris Dinusson, trombone; and Ryan Blodig, percussion. Some of these students are two and three year All-Staters.

FIRST ROW: Sally Donaubauer, Matt Whisler, Cristina Higareda, Gregg Campbell SECOND ROW: Josh DePover, Anne Wittkowski, Randy Riewerts

Every year, before school even starts, a few dedicated choir students began preparing themselves for All-State auditions in October. Some students attended a special three day camp at Wartburg College in Iowa while others practiced on their own. When school finally started, these students were paired up with three other people to make a quartet consisting of an soprano, alto, tenor and a bass.

Once groups have been chosen they would rehearse together both before and after school. It is very important that a quartet act as one because in an auditioning situation one person's mistake could ruin it for the whole group.

Students who made All-State choir are: Sally Donaubauer, soprano; Randy Riewerts, bass; Gregg Campbell, tenor; Cristina Higareda, soprano; Matt Whisler, tenor; Josh DePover, bass; and Anne Wittkowski, alto.

This year North Scott had one of the largest groups of students make it to All-State. The All-State choir performed at the same time as the All-State band and orchestra.

Lancer Productions

Lancer Productions is the student organized drama group. This year there has been a slight change in the way the organization has been run. Over the summer some members put their minds to use to think of ways to make L.P. a more organized group. These people then formed the Board. Members of the Board are made up of officers and the class representatives. They meet on the Monday before the regularly scheduled L.P. meeting to discuss what will be bought up at the meeting.

Something new this year is having visiting groups of people attend the meetings. Lynn Wagner, the Speech Coach, presented a workshop on improvisation and she also arranged for the Teikyo- Marycrest singing group, Sturdevant Break, to come and perform for a meeting. This feature has been added to teach members about drama and get them more interested in the theater.

Lancer Production held a dance to collect food for the food drive. They also held a Last Minute Christmas Shopping Toddler Recreation Day on December 12, which provided parents with a place to leave their kids so they could finish Christmas shopping. Something else that was new this year was a workshop day held on March 6. Members of L.P. signed up to teach a workshop on what they do best, acting, tech, make-up, etc. The workshop was open to children grades 3-8.

The group has presented two major productions this year (Gentleman Prefer Blondes and Oliver) along with Children's Theater (Willows in the Wind). They have also participated in Large Group (Choral Readers, Ensemble, One Act, and Reader's Theater) and Individual Contests of Speech.

The North Scott Fine Arts Auditorium was the place to be on November 6, 7, and 8 when the roarin' twenties came alive with the annual fall play, "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" presented by Lancer Productions. The play was made into a film in the fifties and starred Marilyn Monroe.

"Gentleman Prefer Blondes" is about two girls, Lorelei (Shanna Haugland) and Dorothy (Stacey Bochart), who go on a trip to Europe and end up losing all of their money. Lorelei falls in love with Henry Spoffard III (Justin Levens), who just happens to be extremely rich. Henry proposes to Lorelei, so she hawks her engagement ring to pay the hotel bill. The situation gets straightened out by Mr. Lee, Lorelei's father. He comes to Paris to help Lorelei with her money problems and in the process gives her permission to marry Henry.

This years Dinner Theater production was the Charles Dickens classic "Oliver." It was performed on February 12 and 13 with dinner and on February 19 and 20 without dinner. Oliver was manned by a cast of 93, half of which were students from grades 3-8. The lead, Gregory Gross, was a boy from John Glenn elementary.

"Oliver" is about a little boy who lives in a workhouse, run by Mr. Bumble (a pompous old man) and Widow Cornay (a shrewish old woman). Oliver lives in the workhouse because his mother died while giving birth to him. Due to the cruelty of the proprietors he is sold to a drunken funeral owner and his plump, pushy wife (Mr. and Mrs. Sowerberry), who in turn cause him to run away. Oliver then hooks up with a set of thieves and pickpockets led by a crafty old man (Fagin). During a theft the innocent Oliver is caught, luckily the man who was robbed believed in his innocence and took him in. Amazingly the man ended up to be his Great Uncle. After a near death Oliver escapes to the safety of his Uncle's house where he finds the family and love he has been searching for all his life. All through his journey he meets many characters such as Nancy, Bill Sykes, and The Artful Dodger.

Before dinner and the show entertainment was provided by the Soda Pop'ers who were directed by seniors Kim Rigby and Jenn Noel. The Soda Pop'ers sang six show tunes including "Be Our Guest" and "You'll Never Walk Alone". Waiters and Waitresses for the dinner consisted of Soda Pop'ers and student volunteers.

Choral Readers

This year Choral Readers performed "The Girl Who Cried Flowers," by Jane Yolen. It is a touching love story about a girl trying to make people happy by being sad and crying flowers for them and at the same time trying to make her husband happy by not crying.

The members of Choral Readers included Jesse Driscoll, Cristina Higareda, Jackie Jutting, Karly Klocksium, Stephanie Klocksium, Mike Nagel, Lisa Szemkus, Jessie Wehlage, and alternates Melissa Goetzke and Missy Willers. The group was directed by seniors Justin Levsen and Lynn Peterson.

Choral Readers traveled to Monticello on January 23 to compete in district contest where they received a Division II rating.

Reader's Theater

This years Reader's Theater performed a drama called "Ebony." Ebony, written by Pamela Mirva Mshana, was about a girl named Ebony (Karen Olson) who watches her mother (Taralee Teeples) get beat up by her stepfather (Mark Farrier). She vows this will never happen to her but alas it does. She marries her first boyfriend due to her unexpected pregnancy. Dice (Christy Friederichs) is the boyfriend who commits the violent act.

Reader's Theater headed to District Contest on January 23 in Monticello, IA where they received superior ratings!

On February 6 the troops headed to Pella, IA for state contest in which they received superior ratings again!

This year's Reader's Theater was directed by seniors Paul Sager and Stacey Bochart. "The show was a real emotional show and the cast came together and delivered only what a director could wish for," remarked director Paul Sager.

Ensemble

Kelli Hammes and Stacey Bochart

Stacey Bochart and Kelli Hammes joined up this year to form an ensemble acting group. They performed a piece called "Going For Broke." The story was about a rich college girl and a working college girl both trying to survive the college life. The story evolved around a minor dispute on how each obtained her money, one from her parents (Kelli's character) and the other has to work to get her money (Stacey's character).

They performed at a local speech contest and received a trophy. They then performed at the Iowa Thespian Conference and also received a trophy. On January 23 they headed to District contest in Monticello, IA and received a Division I rating. On February 6 they headed to Pella, IA and received a Division II rating.

One-Act

FIRST ROW: Lynn Peterson, Jenn Noel SECOND ROW: Lynn Voelkel, Amanda Orris, Kim Rigby, Stacey Bochart

On January 23 a group of senior girls traveled to Monticello, IA to compete in district competition. They performed a scene from the play "Little Women." The seniors that participated in this One-Act play were: Stacey Bochart, Amanda Orris, Jenn Noel, Lynn Peterson, Kim Rigby, and Lynn Voelkel. One-Act was directed by Judith Jacobs.

The One-Act received straight ones at District competition, despite their minimal practice times. They headed to State contest in Pella, IA on February 6. They received straight ones again.

Swing Show

On March 19 and 20 the town of Eldridge was swinging to the sounds of North Scott's Swing Show 'Dance To The Music!' Swing Show began with pre-show entertainment by Jazz II at 7:25 p.m. Jazz II played a variety of selections that got everyone in the mood for the exciting show that was about to begin.

The show started promptly at 8:00 p.m. with the theme of 'Dance To The Music' arranged by Roger Holmes being played by the award winning Jazz I. Then out came the Masters of Ceremony, Tami Schwarz, John Lafferty, and Stacey Bochart, to tell of the moving music that was about to be heard. Swinging out on the stage, came the Chamber Singers mixed in with the Swing Choir to sing the fun lyrics of the theme. Dancing out after them, came the dancers to add that finishing touch to the song.

During the show many different songs were presented in a variety of ways. Many talented young musicians played their instruments, sang with their voices, and danced on their toes. Some of the more recognized tunes were "The Joint is Jumpin'," and "Beautiful City" sung by Chamber Singers; "Ease On Down the Road," and "Be True to Your School" sung by Swing Choir; "Over the Rainbow," and the ever popular senior solo, "Orange Colored Sky," sung by Jenn Noel with the Jazz I. Then there was the old time favorite "Friends" sung by a mixture of Chamber Singers and Swing Choir while visions of memories were shown in a slide show behind them.

The whole night was full of numbers that kept everyone on the edge of their seats waiting for more! Each individual was important to the show and contributed their own special something to make Swing Show 1993: 'Dance To The Music,' one of the best!

If you happen to pass through the library on a Monday night you might notice a noisy table in the corner. The crowd at that table are the debaters. They meet every Monday night to work on their cases and arguments they present against their opponents. They discuss past and future debates and do research. Debators sign in every day in Mrs. Jacobs room to pick up any new materials that might have come in.

“A debate usually lasts about 30 to 45 minutes,” said first year debator Kim Wittkop, “two people get up and present their cases, clash, and then who ever proves their case best wins.” When asked, Justin Levsen explained, “Debate is a challenge. It forces you to straighten out your reasoning abilities in an argument.”

Each debator competes approximately 5 times. There are two required debates and the other three are chosen by the individual debator.

Some students joined debate because it looked like fun and others joined debate to expand their ‘minds’. Either way debate is becoming more well known and liked.

Being relatively new to the debate scene has created a few problems in the inexperience department, but in time Mrs. Jacobs hopes to change that. She would also like to see many new faces next year. “You have to start somewhere,” said Jacobs, “and I think we have started off on the right foot.”

Kathy Bopp, a second year debator, said, “I have often been accused of cat fighting with another opponent. You really have to watch what and how you say something. Each judge and opponent sees and hears things differently, you always have to be on your feet.”

Students Against Drunk Driving is a new organization at North Scott where students are taking the initiative to help stop drunk driving. Mr. Buttjer is the advisor of this new group. It was organized mainly by Karly and Stephanie Klocksium who were interested in starting a SADD chapter here at North Scott.

SADD has been a previous organization but it had a lack of participation so Karly and Stephanie wanted to go in a new direction. They wanted to start an organization that could involve a lot of students and help make more people aware of the problem so they talked to Mr. Benjamin about starting a more active SADD chapter. Mr. Benjamin helped them find an advisor and also gave them some other helpful advice. Then they called a meeting for anyone interested in starting a SADD chapter and the new group has been on its way ever since.

SADD usually meets during homeroom and during those meetings they discuss upcoming events and other future plans.

One of the events SADD sponsored this year was a party that was also used as a fundraiser for the group. SADD is working hard to make sure you know when to say when and that driving drunk isn't a smart move!

The Student Council had another successful year as they kept up their excellent record of organizing fun, student activities. This year the Student Council started off by organizing Homecoming. They picked the days of the week, set up the pep rally and the sophomore class representatives designed the dance. Then they participated in the Student Hunger Drive that was sponsored by Lujack Auto Plaza. The Council collected 8,530 pounds of food for the needy families around the Quad Cities. They also took part in the Blood Drive which they have been participating in for the past 15 years. There were 64 donors and Melissa Blanche became this school's 1500th donor. The Student Council also sponsored an informal dance to raise money for prom. The senior class organized Bachelor Capture and the junior class organized prom. All and all it was another great year for the Student Council.

--Mr. Mike Kielkopf

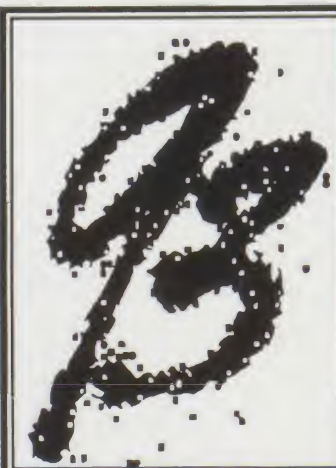

"Yearbook is a place where many diverse people can work together and come up with some creative ideas. Thanks M & J for all of the help!! Thanks Mr. K. Hope you like it!"

--Paul Sager '93

This year's yearbook is made up of hard working students that use their creativity together to form a book full of today's experiences and tomorrow's memories. Mr. Kielkopf and Mr. Hennigan are the advisors of this 3rd hour class. They try to allow the students to think for themselves and be responsible for all of the work it takes to put together a book of this magnitude. This year each student was responsible for a certain section of The Shield. They designed the pages by getting quotes, pictures, and information for the stories that appear on each page. When the information was gathered, they started putting the pages together. After the students designed the pages, they gave them to one of the editors. This year's Tri-editors were Paul Sager, Shelli Musal and Kim Lorenzen. The editors put the designed pages on the "big" computer which made the wonderful picture boxes, pennants, and quote boxes you see throughout the book. The editors spent a great deal of time getting these things done in order to meet a deadline. As Paul Sager states, "People don't realize how much time and effort go into yearbook. We have stayed until midnight a lot this year." Shelli, Kim, and Paul remarked that perhaps the best memory of this year is the trip to IHSPA and almost running down those girls with Mr. K at the wheel of the suburban. Also finally seeing the "Dancing Lady." In closing, we on the yearbook staff would like to thank Mr. Kielkopf for all the help he has given us in his last year at the helm of The Shield.

The Lance Tri-Editors Cristina Higareda, Stacey Henzen, Jennifer Johannsen

Where do you go to find out all the current information about this happenin' school? Of course- The Lance, the official news magazine of North Scott High School.

The Lance is put together by the students and is advised by Mr. Mike Kielkopf. He basically oversees the students and gives them intelligent advice about how to run the newspaper. The Lance is a hands-on course where the staff writers go out and dig up their own information on the stories that the Tri-Editors assign.

This year The Lance dealt with topics like crime, eating disorders, the situation in Somalia, and other topics concerning teens. The Lance also kept us up to date on the Lancer sports scene, band events, the fine arts, and other school news.

This years editors were Jennifer Johannsen, Stacey Henzen, and Cristina Higareda. These three people were the backbone of the paper. They decided what went into the paper and they also designed the look and other aspects of their publication.

Their most important job was during layout week, often putting in several hours after school every night to get the stories into the paper. They were very hectic weeks and as Jen Johannsen says, "I went crazy!"

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a group of students that are interested in learning more about God's word. The only thing required to be a member is that you want to be involved with a great group of friends. F.C.A. meets a couple of Mondays a month in the commons. Meetings are an hour long and usually consist of singing, playing games, reading from the Bible, and discussing some important issues in huddles. Other activities members can attend are the mini-retreat and the Marshalltown Retreat. The mini-retreat is held at the high school in the pit and the new gym. Members play whiffle ball, crab soccer, volleyball and compete in the race. The Marshalltown Retreat is held in Marshalltown and every F.C.A. huddle in the state is invited to attend. The Marshalltown Retreat is a great place for Christians to meet other Christians from different schools. The students take part in huddles that are led by college students. Buzz sessions and other athletic and social activities are also other games huddles play.

F.C.A. is led by Deac Ryan and John Green.

The Future Farmers of America is an organization that meets once a month and is a place where students can get involved and have fun. At meetings the group discusses things such as test plots, district contests, and other topics. Once a year, members participate in contests. Contests they can enter are speech, welding, parliamentary procedure, and others. The highlights of the year are the State and National Conventions. The State Convention is held in Des Moines and the National is held in Kansas City. F.F.A. is also the largest youth organization in the world, boasting 400,000 members. The benefits of being involved in F.F.A. are that members learn leadership, responsibility, and speaking skills. F.F.A. is also a place where education is mixed with a lot of fun and that's what makes this organization so special.

-Kristina Welte '93

If you are a senior and you want a job but also want to learn about the work force then Multi-Occupations is the class for you.

The students that take the class are allowed to leave school mid-day to go to work. Students work at a variety of jobs such as: auto mechanics, office workers, vocational agriculture, etc. There are some limitations, though. If a student is under 18 they may not work in delis with saws, with hydraulics, and they cannot deliver goods. This goes to the liability of the school in case a meat slicer didn't just slice meat.

The students also have class time where they prepare resumes and discuss topics like career goals, communication skills and how to handle themselves on the job. The students get two grades for the class, one for the classroom and one for their job where they are graded by their employers. The major benefit from taking the class is the job experience. Many students often think that students take Multi-Occupations because they don't plan to get any further education, but 90 percent of the students that take this course are going on to college or other job training. As their teacher, Mrs. Herting, says, "They are all super students who have great skills."

Another great thing about the class is that it's also geared towards the students. An example of this happened last year when a student was being sexually harrassed on the job. The class then discussed this problem and the student was able to deal with it. If your parents say "wait till you're in the real world" just take Multi Occupations because it's an out of this world class.

The Art Club is an organization where the school's artists can go and do other projects that cannot be done in the classroom. The Art Club is supervised by Bernie Peeters but is really a student initiated club.

The Club does many different things such as working on art projects, watching films, talking about ideas, and just enjoying other artist's input. "We do many different things, like a few years ago when Fantasia came out we went and saw that as a group because it was a very good artistic movie," Mr. Peeter says. The group also travels to art galleries and museums to look at other artists' work and get ideas of things to incorporate into their own art work.

Altogether, the Art Club is a very informal group where artists can go to improve, experiment, and have fun at what they love to do.

"I like Art Club because I can express myself as an artist and have fun at the same time."

--Wendy Skadal '93

"The nucleus of students involved in Art Club has energy & creative potential. They are planning interesting activities to increase the enjoyment and awareness of art in and out of lives."

--Mr. Peeters

"I enjoy being in Art Club because I think art is very relaxing and it opens your mind up so you can use your imagination."

--Eric Mohr '95

Art: A form of human activity appealing to the imagination; A branch of learning that depends more on special practice than on general principles!

Foreign Language Club

Where can you find all the culturally knowledgeable people in this school? In the Foreign Language Club, of course. The Foreign Language Club kicked off the year with a bang as they held the annual club Christmas party. It was a rockin' evening where members danced a traditional French dance, played Spanish and French word games, sang, broke a pinata, and ate heartily. The club also sold carnations during the week of February 1-5, that people received as Valentine's Day gifts from sweethearts or just friends. This was the group's fundraiser that helped pay for the Christmas party and other activities that they participated in. Mrs. Fletcher was the advisor this year and did a great job with the help of other foreign language teachers and the club officers.

"I enjoyed participating in the Christmas party because this year the leaders planned it and it was a success."

--Mary Cerda '94

National Honor Society is an organization of students who have earned a grade point average of 3.4 and are active in school activities. NHS is advised by Ms. Reisener

The students in the group can earn scholarships and other honors. The members also set up for the college fair and are very involved in other community service projects.

In the spring they admit new members for the group. To be admitted you must write an essay and complete a list of all of your activities. After new members have been selected they are announced at an induction ceremony. The National Honor Society is a group that recognizes the hard work of good students who serve their community and rewards them for their efforts.

Student Helpers

Library Helpers

Being a library helper is often looked upon as an easy task but many take for granted how highly they are needed so that the library operates smoothly. Some of the tasks that library helpers are asked to perform are to check in materials, shelve books, and type book pockets and cards. Library helpers also help make the lovely bulletin board displays around the library with their immense creativity. Library helpers do need qualifications. They have to maintain a grade point average of "C" or above and they need to be responsible individuals. As Mary Cerda points out, "This is a relatively easy job, but there is still a lot to be done. Some students don't realize it takes a lot of time and effort to keep the library going." Now remember, be kind to your library helper because when Mr. VanderVinne gives you a long research assignment, they might be the only thing between getting the book you need for your research or getting an "F" on your beautiful report card.

You see them in almost every class. They are the ones who pick up the attendance sheets and bring in the messages. When you enter the office you always see their bright, smiling faces, ready to help you by answering any questions and providing you with any information you might need. These super beings are the office helpers. Office helpers are vital to the organization of the office.

They perform a variety of tasks for the faculty members which include photocopying, running errands, and placing many important materials in teachers' mailboxes. Being a student helper gives the students the experience they will need if they want to continue in a field of office work.

Junior Achievement is an organization where students run their own business. Their business this year was called Nature's Collectibles. The students manufactured and sold picture frames that were available in two sizes and clocks.

Junior Achievement met every Monday night in the Vo-Ag building. During meetings the members first go over the news about the production line and sales. Then they break down into their departments and are basically on their own from then on. The different departments include quality control, production, sales, etc.

The members also participated in the Trade Fair that was held at Southpark Mall on Halloween. All the local Junior Achievement groups attend and they sell their products at the mall.

J.A. is truly a hands on job where the members work on the assembly line and put their merchandise together and also learn how business works by selling their goods.

At the end of the year each student is paid out of the profits from the year. If you want to have fun and make money too, Junior Achievement is for you!

Close-Up

Are you interested in learning about this nation and the way it works? Have you ever wanted to visit the Washington D.C.? Well if you are involved in Close-Up then you know how you can go. The Close-Up Foundation sponsors a trip to the nation's capital every year. The students from our school meet with students from all over the country. They have group meetings and seminars about many issues of today. The students also have a little free time the last full day there and they are allowed to tour the capital on their own. The trip can get quite expensive but there are ways of earning the money. They can sell candy and there are contributions made by Congressman Leech. The advisor to Close-Up is Don Scott.

Morning Star

Where can you go and find creative works of art and writings? The school's magazine, of course. The Morning Star is our school's magazine that is made up of the most creative minds in the school. The staff of The Morning Star worked very hard this year, thinking of ideas that will enable them and the school to show off their talents and ideas. This was also the tenth anniversary issue of The Morning Star which is also called the "tin anniversary." The Morning Star staff met weekly this past year. In those meetings the staff planned the year's schedule, set up posters, scheduled talks to language arts classes, and named leaders. This year's editor-in-chief was Kelli Hammes. Gene Conrad supervised The Morning Star this year.

The 1992 girls soccer team, coached by Gordon Krueger, was a young squad, including only two seniors. The highlight of their season was the 6-0 win over Burlington. The scoring was led by Leighanne Carroll, Nikki Lung and Anne Wittkowski. The Lady Lancers participated in two invitational tournaments: Muscatine and Cedar Rapids. While no one earned recognition at Cedar Rapids, Elena Diveley was given recognition for her aggressive play, when she earned a position on the Muscatine Tournament 2nd team. Although they didn't have a winning season, their team grew together, improving with every game.

North Scott's Boys Tennis team won their first two games over Geneseo and Clinton. The Lancer team was led by Phil Langan, Kori Jorgensen, Drew Anderson, Andy Laake, Nate Uitenbroek, Matt Koenen, and Cory Olson. "Our conference record was certainly the high point of our season. The MAC tournament and Districts were both major disappointments for this senior-stacked team. So, next year our goal is to place above this years team-a realistic goal even in a 'rebuilding year!" said Coach Mark Wriedt

The 1992 girls track season was one filled with new experiences. Mr. Rhinehart became head coach and Mr. Voelkel became the new hurdle coach. The weather didn't cooperate much, as the temperatures throughout the season ranged from 30 to 80 degrees. The team consisted of only 28 members, but they showed a very respectable season. Mr Voelkel summed up the season by saying, "We had a fun season. Everybody worked really hard and improved."

Carrie Gronewold makes the play at first!

"Good teams make things happen, bad teams do not." This seems to be the motto of Head Coach Dennis Johnson. "We had a good season considering the injuries and position juggling we had to do. 32 and 16 is not what we are used to, but we are young and next season, with the right senior leadership, should be a good one." said Coach Johnson. Keeping the age and experience in mind one can not look down on our Lady Lancers. With all the experience they will have next year and the goals that Coach Johnson has set for them we are sure to have one dynamite team. Through good times and bad we are always 100% behind our FABULOUS Lady Lancers.

The summer of '92 was another tough year for the Lancers. However the Lancers captured their biggest win over state champs Assumption whose record was 41-5. North Scott being one of the two conference teams to beat the Knights. "That was a very big victory for us," said Coach White. "The first win of the year at the Urbandale tournament was nice, but this was big in the fact that it was a MAC game against a team that was supposed to have a superior talent, superior coaching and a superior program."

Matt Koenen '92 was brilliant on the mound as he tossed a three-hitter while fanning three. He didn't allow a hit until the fifth inning and only one of the Assumption runs was earned. The Lancers suffered a big loss when Matt Akers was lost for the season after being hit in the arm by a pitch.

In the Camanche tournament, the Lancers finished second. In the MAC conference they finished tenth place. The Lancers ended out their season with a 8-26 record.

"Pitching is always in baseball, as is defense," said Coach White, "but we actually haven't been that far away from being a much better baseball team this year. If you take away a couple of walks here and a few booted balls there, we'd have a good record under our belts."

- ☐ 4 year MAC Champs
- ☐ Second place in regionals

Coach Hartman's Comments:

"One of the highlights was the dual meet stretch of 32-2. Also the fact that we're sending two golfers to play in college. It was disappointing to lose regionals to Dubuque Senior after defeating them at the Lancer Invitational, but there's always next year."

As defending MAC conference champions, the boy's golf team had its work cut out for them. They graduated their top seven golfers last spring and began to play on a new championship golf course, at Glynn's Creek in Scott County Park. The Lancers were paced by the impressive shooting of freshman Kevin Rudd. Although they only finished the dual meet season with a record of 2-14, they improved with every match. The Lancers finished the MAC conference meet ahead of Davenport West with a score of 716. At Districts, the Lancers finished last. In this meet some of the Lancers set new record scores for themselves.

One of the highlights of the season was when North Scott sophomore Kris Deutmeyer shot a hole-in-one during his practice round at Muscatine Municipal Golf Course. The Lancers were tuning up for their District meet when Deutmeyer aced the number 6, par three, 186-yard hole with a three-iron.

The North Scott girl's cross country team had only two returning varsity runners, and Coach Hartman found herself struggling to recruit enough runners to make a team. At the beginning of the season, there were four girls on the varsity team and two freshman/sophomore team members.

The girls on the team worked hard all season, finishing sixth in the MAC conference. Although each girl improved on her previous times on the Muscatine course, they finished fourteenth at Districts.

"In the beginning of the year, I thought that Jen Rock, Ellen Cook and I were going to be the only ones on the team. Then all of a sudden we where up to a whopping 6. Everyone gave their all this year. Running varsity almost every meet because of low numbers can sometimes be nerve-racking. But everyone survived and had fun. I want to wish Jenny R. good luck at college next year, and Christie Carstensen, Ellen Cook, Apryl Smith, Tasha Wiese and all of next years runners the best of luck next year in Cross-country. I also want to thank Dan O'Flaherty for all the rides home that Ellen Cook and I mooched. To all you potential runners out there, TRY CROSS COUNTRY. It's not as hard as it looks."

As a returning second year coach, Dan O'Flaherty had no idea what to expect. The varsity team consisted of 7 members; one senior, one junior, two sophomores, and three freshman. This team started out the season well, with two fourth place finishes. By the end of the season the North Scott boy's cross country team was running at its best. The team captured three strong second place finishes at the close of the season and finished fifth at the Districts.

Although the North Scott boy's cross country team didn't get the chance to compete at the state level, the Lancers came as close as they could come with their fifth place finish. At the District meet, the Lancers not only captured the second highest District finish in the school's history, but four athletes earned their personal best and the fifth was just three seconds off.

Varsity Volleyball

While the Lady Lancers may have been eliminated from tournament action by perhaps one of the best teams in the nation, there is no doubt that they saved their best for the tournament trail. In the tournament, the Lady Lancers won their first two matches against Davenport West and Bettendorf. They then advanced to the District final against Clinton. Although they lost, they continued on the road to state. They then played the returning state champions Dubuque Wahlert, and it was over in three quick games.

The North Scott girls varsity volleyball team finished sixth in the MAC conference with a record of 4-5. The season was a very successful one in the sense that leadership was shown on the court by seniors Lisa Holden, Jody Farrey, Heather Moore, Tonia Leing and Carrie Gronewold. The North Scott freshman girl's volleyball team had an exciting season under new Head Coach Wendy White. The freshman began the season with many ups and downs. The highlight and turning point in the season was winning the Williams Invitational. They played Williams Junior High in the championship game and beat them 2-1. They also came out very close in the Wilton Invitational with a record of 0-1-2, losing only to Wilton. They came out on top with a 3-1 record.

The freshman girl's team ended their season with a record of 10-4-4.

The North Scott sophomore girls' volleyball team started off the season with two ties against Dubuque Senior and Dubuque Hempsted. This season Coach Brad Merrick felt that his team had the experience and intensity that was needed to finish on top of the MAC conference. The team finished with a record of 11-7 and this put them in third place in the conference.

The highlight of the sophomore girls' season was beating Pleasant Valley. The two games were very close contests and Kathy Looney led the lady Lancers with her serving. The team as a whole were incredibly accurate at serving (87%), serve reception (77%), and spiking (81%).

"We started the season off pretty well, and with Mr. Merrick's coaching we ended up with a third place finish in the MAC conference."

When Coach Randy Schrader began coaching at North Scott this year, no one knew what to expect. The Lancer football team began practicing in August with an intense summer training program. Although this season the Lancers went 0-9, they were a much improved team over last year. They had some close games throughout their season, but unfortunately they fell short on the scoreboard.

One of the most memorable games this season was the Homecoming game against Muscatine. In this game, the Lancers fought hard and dominated in every facet of the game except for the numbers on the scoreboard. The Lancers and Muskies were tied 14-14 at the end of regulation. In overtime, the Lancers didn't convert on their two point play. The final score was 21-20.

When the Lancer football team walked off the field that night, what a walk it was. The game had been over 10 minutes and as the Lancers held their traditional post-game talk beneath the south goal posts, Lancer fans formed a tunnel of tribute that stretched from end zone to end zone, showing their support for their team. The Lancer football team will always remember this Homecoming game for its heartbreaking loss.

The Bridge Builder

An old man going down a lone highway
Came in the evening cold and gray
To a chasm vast and deep and wide
Through which was flowing a sullen tide.
The old man crossed in the twilight dim;
That swollen stream held no fears for him;
But he turned when safe on the other side
And built a bridge to span the tide.

"Old man," said a fellow pilgrim near,
"You are wasting your strength with building here
Your journey will end with the ending day;
You never again must pass this way;
You have crossed the chasm deep and wide—
Why build you this bridge at the eventide?"

The builder lifted his old gray head.
"Good friend, in the path I have come," he said,
"There followeth after me today
A youth whose feet must pass this way.
This swollen stream which was naught to me
To that fair-haired youth may a pitfall be;
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim;
Good friend, I am building the bridge for him."

This season proved to be more successful than the last for the freshman football team. Although they posted only a 3-5 record on season, a majority of their games were close contests. The highlight of the season was the freshman team's defeat of the Bettendorf dynasty for the first time. The leading scorer for the team was Todd Hamann with eight touchdowns and one two point conversion. Drew Keppy rushed for 365 yards throughout the season, with a high individual game rushing total of 200 yards.

With the new head varsity football coach, the North Scott sophomore season began much like that of the varsity team. The sophomores practiced throughout August with a very intense workout. The sophomore football team had a rough season, losing all but a few MAC conference games in close contests.

The highlight of the season was the 13-7 win over Muscatine for Homecoming. In this game, the Lancer football team ran the ball well through the game. The biggest play of the game was when Lee Bockenfeld intercepted the ball with 30 seconds left in regulation. This set up Neal Keppy's gutsy touchdown reception when he carried two defenders in for the winning score on the game's final play.

The North Scott Lady Lancers basketball team finished the season with a record of 10-10, placing them in third place in the MAC conference. This year the varsity girls basketball team was known for their drive, desire, and determination. They started off the season by beating state ranked Assumption, 55-48. Scoring big for the Lancers this year was junior Lori Osterberg, averaging thirteen points per game.

Some of the highlights of this season were beating both Central and Burlington by one point margins.

In the Central game, the Lady Lancers battled back from a 14 point third quarter deficit to down the Blue Devils 51-50. Tara Buzzell was the big hero in this game as her three point shot with three seconds left proved to be the difference.

In the Burlington game, the Lady Lancers were down 58-57 on their last possession. North Scott came down the court, worked the ball around, and pulled the Greyhound defense out of their zone. A quick pass to senior Anne Wittkowski on the baseline and her five foot bucket with eight seconds left proved to be the difference in this game.

Although their MAC record of 4-10 doesn't show it, the North Scott girls sophomore basketball team were fierce competitors. The offensive attack was well balanced on the team. They were led in scoring by Kelly Mangels, and in rebounding by Teisha Tuftee. Amber Pewe led the team in assists and freethrow percentage.

The biggest win of the season was when they beat Muscatine (48-37) because the Muscatine finished first in the MAC conference. The most memorable game this season was against Central. This was a very exciting game that was decided by Central's free throws after time ran out in the second overtime (42-44).

This year the freshman girls basketball team was led by new Head Coach Mike Wallace. Christy Dalton was the led the team in scoring and Jenl Schneckloth led the team in rebounding.

The best game of the season was against Clinton. The freshman girls played unselfish basketball and displayed a lot of hustle on defense. Christy Dalton and Sara Hammes led the defense as they shut down one of the top freshman teams in the area (50-40).

6TH IN MAC CONFERENCE
OVERALL RECORD 8-11

The varsity boys basketball team had a very exciting season this year. Second year head coach Bob White led the Lancers to a tie for 6th place in the MAC conference. They finished the regular season with a record of 8-11. The offense was dominated by Josh Younkin and Jason Brandon. While on defense, senior Bill Brockmann and junior Nate Carr dominated the boards.

A game that rang through the hallways here at North Scott was the victorious win over Bettendorf. The Lancers won 79-71 with Jason Brandon scoring 33 points alone! Jason was featured in the Quad-City Times prep spotlight.

The highlight of the season was competing in the substate qualifying round for The State Tournament. The Lancers played Northern Dubuque in Epworth for their first round game. During this game, North Scott and W. Dubuque and many lead changes. Finally, with 1:17 left, North Scott was behind by five points (62-57). A few quick turnovers by W. Dubuque and connection on a few free throws was the key to turning the game around for the Lancers. Then with six seconds left, junior Nate Carr scored to give North Scott a 63-62 lead and the eventual win. By winning this game, the Lancers got a bye for the next game, being the highest seed remaining, and automatically advanced to the substate finals. The Lancers took on Dubuque Senior at Clinton and took the lead from the start. Josh Younkin, Jay Nichols, and Jason Brandon combined for 76.9% of the offense and the Lancers won by 14 points (74-60). This win advanced the Lancers to their first ever State Tournament appearance. Overall Record 7-10

The North Scott sophomore boys basketball team finished the season posting with a record of 7-10. The scoring was split between many players on the team, each game lead the offensive attack.

The sophomore boy's had two exciting one point losses against Burlington and Muscatine. The Muscatine was definitely one to remember. They trailed the entire game and at the beginning of 4th quarter. They were down by 13 with 6 minutes to go. The team started a full court press and made many decisive shots. There were great plays from everyone this game. Three of the started fouled out, but North Scott's bench kept them in the game. It was, a great game, but unfortunately North Scott couldn't pull it out. They lost by a score of 63-62.

The North Scott freshman boys basketball team finished the season with a record of 13-5. This group of guys showed that they could compete with any freshman basketball team in the area. The leading scorer for the freshman was Eric Varcho.

The best game of the season was against Williams Junior High. This game was played at Williams and the freshman were down 18-13 after the first quarter. By the end of the 3rd quarter they and cut their lead to two points. In the 4th quarter, they got the lead and never turned back. The most memorable point of this game was the bizarre officiating call with 33 seconds left, but North Scott held on for the win. The one factor that contributed to this win was probably the 46 rebounds that these aggressive freshman had during the game.

Most Match Points: Baramé Osothsongkroh

The North Scott freshman wrestling team had a very successful season with a record of 8-4. With 20 wrestler's out for the team, this team had a lot of talent. The most valuable wrestler for the freshman was Adam Ganzer and the most improved wrestler was Mike Peterson.

The North Scott sophomore wrestling team also finished the season with much success. There were only seven wrestler's on the sophomore team, and four of them had a lot of varsity wrestling experience this year.

Despite finishing eighth at Districts, North Scott advanced three wrestler's to the State Wrestling Tournament in Des Moines. Seniors Jeff Claey's, Hiram Heysinger, and Baramé Osothsongkroh all finished second at Districts and this guaranteed them an opportunity to wrestle at the State Meet. Baramé led the Lancer charge with a sixth place finish in the state after suffering 5-0 loss in the opening round. He then went on to win three more matches, which allowed him to place in the top six. Jeff Claey's lost his first two matches at the State Meet, but they were both very gutsy matches. While Hiram Heysinger won his first match 16-5, he lost a heartbreaking second match 7-6. This automatically placed him in the consolation round where he lost 6-4. These North Scott wrestler's turned in fine performances throughout the season and their state performances as well.

Swimming

Although North Scott doesn't have a swimming pool, four students drove to Pleasant Valley every day in order to take part in the PV/NS cooperative swim team.

The three students on the PV/NS boys swim team were Kirk Moeller, Andy Bosworth and Eric Mohr. The swim team had a tremendous season, ending the year with a 14th place finish in the state. Kirk Moeller swam his way to four first place finishes, leading the PV/NS swim team to a third place finish. Moeller's four first place finishes automatically qualified him for the state swimming meet in Iowa City. At the State Meet, Kirk finished 5th in the 50 meter freestyle and 7th in the 100 meter butterfly. Although he finished 5th in the 50 meter freestyle, it was Moeller's career best time of 21.77. Moeller was also on the 6th place 200 meter freestyle relay team.

The PV/NS girls swim team had a great season as well. Junior Andi Sharp was once again the only girl to participate in the cooperative swim team. Her performance at Districts automatically qualified her for the State meet. There she finished 9th in the state in the 100 meter butterfly, she set a new school record of 1:03.58.

At North Scott High School there are many sports for students to pick from to participate in, or so you would think. In spite of all the options there are still many students who decide to go outside the school banner to participate in athletics.

Recently a popular non-school sport is Drag Racing. We're not talking about speeding down St. Ann's road, but racing against the clock down the Cordova Dragway. Seniors Joe Schoenthaler, Shawn Huffman, and Junior Darin Doerscher could tell you many exciting stories about their racing experiences. They are not just talk either. Shawn Huffman has won many awards including: 1992 fall "Battle of the High Schools, 1st place individual and overall. Shawn became interested in drag racing by watching it on T.V. and also by watching former Lancer Randy White. Although Shawn has only been racing for one year he really has a smokin' future.

Joe Schoenthaler has taken his drag racing career a step further. Joe, besides racing in the "Battle of the High Schools," races every weekend in the open division of the dragway. Joe became interested in drag racing because of a friend who races and is very generous. One of Joe's most memorable moments in drag racing was breaking into the 11's. Joe has won monetary awards, numerous trophies, 1st place at the Cordova cruise in the Pro Street category, and also 2 runner-ups in the trophy class.

Junior Darin Doerscher also participates in drag racing at the Cordova Dragway. Darin's most memorable moment was when North Scott won the Overall Battle of the High Schools. Darin has been participating in the sport for 2 years, and gives these words of wisdom "When a motor is running, don't stick your finger in the fan blade."

Dance Team

The North Scott Silver Shakers Dance Team completed its third year. This year they performed at many events. These events included: various auds, the Homecoming pep aud, the Homecoming football game, and at halftime at the Quad City Thunder basketball game. At halftime of a boy's basketball game, they performed a dance which they took to the Iowa State Drill Team Contest in Des Moines. At the contest, they also competed in the pom-pom dance category. In the dance category they received a Division I rating.

The coaches for this years dance team were Katie Hermesen and Julie Anderson. All of the choreography was done by junior Sally Donaubauer. The highlight of the year for most of the Silver Shakers was Dancing at halftime at the Quad City Thunder game.

"My first year as a Silver Shakers dancer will always be remembered. I had a lot of fun throughout the season and I met a lot of new people. I'll never forget when we went to the State Competition in Des Moines and we received a Division I rating. We had a lot of great memories including...Guido, the pizza man."

"My feelings towards the dance team, is that it was a lot of fun!! This was my first year being on the squad. State competition had to be one of the most fun times the Dance Team had. Being in front of all of those people and being judged on how well we performed. I really enjoyed being on the squad, and hope to see this program grow in the next 2-3 years."

This year it was especially difficult for head cheerleading coach Julie Anderson and assistant cheerleading coach Katie Hermesen to choose the girls for the cheerleading squad, because there were more girls out for cheerleading then there were last year. Most of the girls on the varsity squad have had many years of experience.

The cheerleaders enjoyed getting the opportunity to cheer at the different games throughout the season. The highlight of the football season was cheering at the Homecoming football game against Muscatine. This was undoubtedly one of the best football games this year for North Scott and the cheerleaders kept up the spirit throughout the game.

The highlight of the basketball season was cheering at the home game against Clinton. The game was close throughout the first half and North Scott only lost by one point with seconds remaining. The highlight of the wrestling season was getting to cheer at the state wrestling tournament for the three wrestlers that qualified for the state tournament in Des Moines. The cheerleaders play an important role in the success and stability of fall and winter athletics by supporting North Scott's teams.

Trainers

At 3:15 every day, the North Scott Trainers are in the training room treating many of North Scott's athletes before practices. The trainers attend all North Scott athletic events and give medical assistance to the Lancers. The trainers also give medical assistance to the visiting teams.

Being a trainer requires a lot of time and dedication including long days and time away from their homes. Some of the trainers duties include: care, prevention, and rehabilitation of athletic injuries, water, ice, first aid and assisting head coaches in any way possible to make life for the team a little easier.

This year the athletic training staff is headed by newcomer Brent Buttjer. There are many new student trainers this year. Without all of their time and dedication, North Scott would not be able to have the successful athletic program that it has.

"Athletic training can be on of the most unrecognized activities in high school, but it is the most rewarding because of the satisfaction you get from helping the teams get the extra edge. It doesn't matter if it's just a drink of water or a tape job, you learn to form friendships with athletes and coaches. Training will always be remembered as one of my most memorable experiences in high school.

--Chrissy Costello '93

Boosters

The number of students involved in dramatic activities grew a drama booster's club was inevitable. Serious talk of a drama booster has been going on for the past two years. Peg Campbell was the first to actually organize such a thing. The primary goal of the group is to provide support to all NS dramatic efforts. For instance, they organized an LP event where students went door to door to collect donations for play props, stage materials, and costumes. Drama booster persons also help provide transportation to chaperone various drama and debate events. Other events sponsored by the group were the concession stands and the sale of balloons and flowers at the plays. The money earned from this was put toward buying missing awards for the many Lancer Production members. Drama Boosters also brought dinner to the play members before many of the shows.

All the Booster Clubs would like to thank all the volunteers that helped make their organizations a success!

The Music Boosters are a group of parents that put forth their time and effort to help raise money for the music programs. They meet every third Monday of the month and discuss what they can do to make our music programs better. They organize fund raisers, which help pay for new robes and uniforms, trips and scholarships for students to go to music camps during the summer. Their main fund raisers are selling pizzas and pies in the fall and running the concession stand for the winter sports events. Mr. Dan Anderson, instrumental music instructor, feels that this group of parents are a well organized group that do a lot for the music program.

The Athletic Boosters is a volunteer organization that was set up to support good sportsmanship and also to give support to all athletics at North Scott community schools. For a second year the North Scott Athletic Boosters Club was honored with a District Booster club of the year and State Championship award. During the years of 91-92 the Athletic Boosters contributed $34,177 to North Scott Athletics. The Athletic Boosters main fund raisers are: the cake auction, sports program ad sales, raffle tickets at football games, slamma jamma tournament, the Midwest Wrestling Tournament, a golf tournament, and the telephone book delivery. The Athletic Boosters meet on the second Wednesday of the month at the high school and the public is welcome to attend.

The Ag Boosters was created in April 1992 and became affiliated with the state FFA Alumni in July 1992. They meet as needed throughout the year (usually bimonthly). Committees have been set up to deal with FFA activities and assist with training students for contests and activities. A special activity set up and run by the Ag Boosters is the summer internship program for sophomore and junior students. They are placed in an area of interest to see if their career choice is right for them.

In Memory Of...

"The thing that we will remember the most about J.B. is his attitude and his truck. ."

--Eddie Kane and Clint Maher '93

On Wednesday, January 5, 1993, a tragic event occurred when a fellow classmate, J.B. Suiter, was killed in a car accident. J.B. was a senior and a member of the varsity baseball team. He enjoyed boating, camping at the beach, four-wheeling, shooting guns, and baseball.

The accident happened on Hwy 67 near Camanche. Eddie Kane, a passenger and close friend to J.B., received minor injuries when J.B.'s car crossed the center line colliding head-on with another vehicle. J.B. was rushed to Samaritan Hospital South in Clinton where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Services for J.B. were held at the Princeton Presbyterian Church with a separate service held for students, since over 200 students attended to pay their last respects to a fellow classmate.

Thinking

*If you think you are beaten, you are.
If you think you dare not, you don't.
If you'd like to win but you think you can't,
It's almost a cinch you won't.*

*If you think you'll lose, you're lost.
For out of the world we find
Success begins with a person's will --
It's all in the state of mind.*

*If you think you're outclassed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise;
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.*

*Life's battle doesn't always go
To the stronger, faster woman or man.
But sooner or later the person who wins
Is the one who thinks they can.*

A few words from the 'Tri-Editors

Kim L. Lorenzen
Kim L. Lorenzen

It was an honor to be selected as a 1993 Shield editor. It was not all that I expected it would be, but I got to know my classmates better. Through the year we had many trials and tribulations, which were conquered when everyone worked together to achieve our goals.

A special thanks goes out to the Shield staff. Congratulations on making all the deadlines, you did a great job! I also want to thank Shelli for always being there for me.

Thanks, Mr. Hennigan and Mr. Kielkopf for being supportive of all us editors throughout the year. I want to wish both Shelli and Paul the best of luck in the future.

Shelli A. Musal
Shelli A. Musal

Working with the Yearbook Staff to create the 1993 Shield was an experience that I will not soon forget. Along the way we had our problems, but when things needed to be done, as a group, we pulled together to meet our goals.

Being an editor was an honor, but the staff deserves the credit. I would like to thank everyone for their hard work and Mr. Kielkopf and especially Mr. Hennigan for their advice in getting through the year. A special thanks to Kim for being a great friend. I would like to wish you and Paul both the best of luck in the future.

Paul W. Sager
Paul W. Sager

Being an editor of The Shield meant a lot of responsibility, hard work and dedication. I put a lot of time and effort into this book you are now holding in your hands. I want to thank the staff for all of their contributions and help. I appreciate all of your creative and personal talents. I want to especially thank Michael and Jeremy. Even though you joined at semester (really before!) your help certainly didn't go unnoticed. I want to wish you good luck next year. You'll finally understand what you go through being an actual editor. You two are the best friends a person could ever have! July is coming up guys! Thanks Stephanie and Karly for all the help you gave to me when I didn't realize I needed it. You two sure put up with a lot! And thanks twinsX2 for all of the special memories! A special thanks to the Lance Editors as well. You guys always managed to help with suggestions and ideas that I needed. A special thanks to my family. During deadlines I tended to get moody and snappy! Thank you for your understanding and honesty. Thanks Ms. R and Ms. M for the lunch. It broke the monotony of a deadline week. A very special thanks to my mentor, Mr. "Bob" Kielkopf. Without your wisdom and intelligence I wouldn't have succeeded in producing this book. Thank you very much. Thanks for also letting me take up residency in the office and for putting up with our loud voices! (And by the way I'll take on Al anyway!) Thanks Shelli and Kim for your intelligence, support, and help. Thanks Mr. Hennigan for always letting me cut through your room. Thanks Mrs. McClurg for letting me be who I am and letting us paint the room. To the seniors: Good luck in whatever you pursue after June 6.

THANKS

The Shield would like to thank the students and faculty of North Scott High School for allowing us to capture you in moments that were quite unexpected to you.

We would like to thank the school for giving us the creative opportunity to have a yearbook.

We would like to thank the North Scott Press for those extra pictures we needed.

We would like to thank Big Ed for taking the pictures that our Shield photographers couldn't accommodate.

We would also like to thank Deborah Mulligan our Josten's rep who helped with her suggestions and advice.

The yearbook does not receive any school funds and tax dollars from the community. Without the help of our advertisers we would not be able to produce this book. We would like to thank them all for their support.

And a special thanks to Mr. Hennigan. Without the usage of his wise expertise the yearbook wouldn't be the same. Mr. Hennigan deserves a lot of recognition with his help in this book.

And thanks to the man who oversees the production of this book. Without Mr. Kielkopf this book could not possibly be produced. With this being his last year as the Shield adviser we hope that this book is perhaps the best he has advised.

Thanks for his willingness to buy all the pizza we could eat and make sure that we didn't stay too late! Again we wish you the best on the newspaper.

For all of the people that were inadvertently left out in any way we apologize! We extend our gratitude to you as well.

THANKS AGAIN!

COLOPHON

The 1993 Shield is volume 35. The issue contains 176 pages printed by Josten's Company in Topeka KS. Josten's was represented by Deborah Mulligan. The cover is a stock design named Blueprint with scarlet red lettering on a silver foil background. Most of the candid and group photos were taken, developed, printed, and processed by the Yearbook staff members. There were over 200 contributed photos contributed by the student body. The main copy is Bookman 10 pt. The cutlines are Helvetica 7-9 pt. The page numbers are in Zapf Chancery 18 pt. The book was printed on 80-pound gloss paper with a 120-board weight cover. Individual copies sold for $32 and included a supplement. The book was distributed at the annual Yearbook Signing Party which was held on May 20, 1993 from 7-10 p.m. in the commons. Approximately 650 copies were produced. We thank everyone for letting us be one of your high school's most treasured items: The Yearbook!

--Willa Cather, "My Antonia"

Spring Activities

The Art Club went to Teikyo Marycrest for an art show in May. In the pictures the members are showing some of their art.

Five students went to Washington D.C. this spring for Close Up. They were Leighanne Carroll, Amy Neilson, Kim Lorenzen, Clint Christopher and Tom McDonnell. They are pictured at a dinner theater and in front of the Capitol Building.

The first weekend of April a group of students went to Marshalltown for the F.C.A. retreat. A few of these students are pictured resting after a long day of activities.

'93 Seniors

What was your most embarrassing moment in high school?

"I was trying to help Cora Ferris get her car unstuck from the ice-in a skirt and pantyhose. I slipped and fell flat on my face on the ice in front of a bunch of people."

-Stacey Bochart '93

What teacher will you remember most and why?
"Mr. Voelkel because he made me believe that I can do Analysis and he put up with my sarcastic remarks so early in the morning!"

-Shannon Hans '93

If you could give a piece of advice to underclassmen, what would it be?

"Cherish every moment you have in high school because before you know it, it will be gone."

-Leighanne Carroll '93

What was it like to be a senior?
"Great! But you get senioritis after spring break and you don't want to come back to school. You become a slacker, ask any senior."

-Carrie Gronewold '93

What would you change about North Scott?

"I would make it be open campus!"

-Kerri Brehmer '93

What was your most memorable moment in high school?

"Going in the girl's locker room and shaving my legs and having everybody stare at me. It was embarrassing."

-Heather Gress '93

What made the biggest impact on you while you were in high school?

"I think the biggest impact on me in high school was going to the state basketball tournament my senior year. It was all I ever dreamed it would be."

-Josh Younkin '93

Softball

These players show how weightlifting is a very important part of their workout. FIRST ROW: Lori Osterberg, Tara Buzzell. SECOND ROW: Amber Pewe, Jill Hyer, Lisa Holden.

"We are going to have a very strong, dedicated team and being in the weightroom this year will help all of us as a TEAM."

-Sara Kirby '93

"We just need to get on the field and prove that 1987 isn't the only year North Scott can take 1st at State."

-Lea Twigg '93

FIRST ROW: Kristen Horn. SECOND ROW: Lisa Holden, Shannon Hans, Christy Dalton. THIRD ROW: Lea Twigg, Jill Hyer, Sara Kirby, Carrie Gronewold, Kerri Brehmer, Lori Osterberg, Heather Gress.

Another softball season is approaching and as last year's first team All-State shortstop, Lori Osterberg, puts it, "I don't think you'll find one girl who isn't ready to play this season." The Lancers are returning thirteen letterwinners, four of whom won All-State and All-MAC honors last season, and lost only one senior from last year's 32-16 club. "Teamwork, team play and our mental approach to the game will dictate how we do this summer. Again, pitching and defense should be strong points and we will build on that aspect," said Coach Dennis Johnson. The home opener is on June 3 against Maquoketa.

The 1993 Lancer baseball team is entering the season with 8 returning letterwinners off of last year's club. The returning letterwinner's are Joe Schoenthaler, Matt Akers, Aaron Uitenbroek, Jeff Claey's, Jarod Powell, Josh Younkin, Eddie Kane, and Rick Warren. These seniors should build a strong nucleus for the team and also provide a lot of leadership. Joining this talented group of seniors is a good group of juniors who should do an excellent job. As Assistant Coach Brent Buttjer says, "This years team will be very exciting to watch. The combination of our senior leaders and our talented junior class should provide Lancer baseball fans with many enjoyable nights at the ol' ball park." All of us should take Mr. Buttjer's advice and catch the home opener on June 14 when the Lancers play the Burlington Greyhounds.

"This year there is a lot of dedicated people that have worked really hard in the offseason to prepare for baseball."

-Rick Warren and Jarod Powell '93

"My goal for the team is to be able to enjoy the same feeling as our boys basketball team did at state."

-Matt Akers '93

VALEDICTORIANS

The valedictorians for the class of 1993 are Shelli Musal, Kim Newmarch, and Aaron Uitenbroek. All three maintained a grade point average of 4.0 through their entire high school career at North Scott.

"It's been said that there is always one moment in a lifetime when the door opens and lets the future in. For the class of 1993, our doors open today."
-Shelli Musal

"A wise man once said, 'You can do anything you want, you just can't do everything you want.' Set your goals high and make the effort to achieve them."
-Aaron Uitenbroek

"Never give up on your dreams, someday they may come true"
